“Building the bridge from foundation to innovation!”

Message from the Principal

Dear Parents,

As you are aware, the District and the Board of Education have decided that all preK-12 students will transition to remote learning between November 30 through December 18. Click here for the District communication. While we are sad that we will not be able to continue to educate students in-person, we want to ensure the health and safety of our school community. Please note, there is no school for students this Friday, November 20 in order for staff to prepare for remote learning.

Teacher teams are creating remote learning schedules at each grade level. These schedules will be shared later this week. All schedules will include a Morning Meeting and live instruction for ELA, guided reading groups, and Math. There will also be opportunities for independent work that is an extension of instruction. If your child is pulled out for specialized instruction or intervention, these pull-out groups will follow the same schedule as in-person learning. Each grade level will continue to meet with their Specials teacher at the same time as the current in-person schedule. Remote learning opportunities will be available from 8:30am - 3:00pm each day.

If your family has completed a check-out form for technology, a device will be sent home with your student this Thursday. In addition to a device, teachers will be sending home math workbooks and other supplies they may need for remote learning. If your student will be leaving for break before Thursday, please let your teacher know in advance so they can ensure your student has the necessary supplies on their last day in the classroom.

We will continue to take attendance while your child is learning remotely according to state law. Attendance will be based on your child's participation in live meetings (whole class mini lessons and small groups) and completion of remote work.

We know that working remotely during this period is emotional for students and families. Teachers have planned to discuss students' feelings and their remarkable resilience during daily morning meetings. Weekly Social Emotional lessons will continue to be included in your child's schedule.

Thank you for your patience and grace as we navigate this trying time together. Please feel free to contact your classroom teacher with any questions or concerns. We are here to support you and your family.

*Thank you for sharing your student with us!
